Wheat Cleaned Six Times

"The equipment for wheat cleaning is as extensive and expensive as that for grinding purposes. The freedom of flour from dirt and bacteria shows in its appearance."

FRANK Wm. JACO.

is National Association Bethel.

Wheat specially selected for William Tell Flour is stored in hermetically sealed tanks, at Ansted & Burke's big mill.

It is cleaned six times before grinding. Everything—even the sowing of the bag—is done by clean, bright machinery.

Note how much purer William Tell is than other flours. This means wheat cleaning by the most complete equipment known to modern milling science.

William Tell Flour has the brilliant bloom such as only Ohio wheat can make.

WEST PARIS.

The Weekly Happenings as Gleaned by Our Special Staff Reporter.

(Deferred.)

Charles Roland, the ten months old son of Oscar and Annie (Bacon) Kimball, died Wed. afternoon. The child has been ill for several weeks, but the end came unexpectedly. Funeral services were held at the house Friday at 1:30 p. m. Rev. Seth Benson officiating.

At the M. E. Chapel Sunday morning the decorations were of potted plants and Easter lilies. The pastor gave an able sermon which was enjoyed by an audience that filled the house. Appropriate music was sung by the choir. In the evening there was a pleasing concert by the children.

The Easter services at the Univ. church Sunday morning were very impressive and beautiful. The church was decorated with potted palms and ferns and bouquets of lilies and pink. The opening prelude was a trombone solo by Mr. Irish with Miss Lane at the organ. Singing by choir and solo by Miss Campbell of South Paris. An impressive sermon by the pastor followed by the baptism of one adult and two children. A large congregation partook of communion. Many remained to Sunday School to listen to the exercises by the children. In the evening the Y. P. C. U. held Easter services led by the pastor.

The ladies of the West Paris Grange held their annual sale Friday afternoon and evening. The traveling was unfavorable but the warm, beautiful day made it desirable for people to go out so there was a fair attendance. The fancy work, apron, cooked food, candy and canned fruit tables all represented the skill and energy of the Grange ladies. Miss Maud Day presided at the mystery tree which received good patronage. On account of recent fairs and sales held by other organizations in town the sales were not as brisk as was hoped so there was an auction to close out the remaining goods. After which Tuell and Martin played for a social dance which closed the evening.

A fair sized audience was present to see the two act comedy, "Our Church Fair" at Good Will Hall Wed. eve. The play was full of incidents said to be characteristic of church work, but certainly not the churches of West Paris. There were many local hits amusing to those who enjoy them. There was a piano duet by Miss Young and Miss Tuell and singing by Leona Marston and Maude Tuell, which received a large encore. The apron sale and the excellent supper served from six o'clock to 7:30 received good patronage. The proceeds were over $20.

Mrs. H. R. Tuell who is recovering from a severe illness, wishes to thank the friends who by words and letters of sympathy, beautiful flowers and their many kindnesses have helped to brighten the weary hours of suffering. She would especially thank Dr. and Mrs. Wheeler for their kind ministrations, which have been so helpful and so freely bestowed.

S. M. Shedd of Haverhill, Mass., is visiting his uncle, Levi Shedd, Mr. Shedd is a zealous evangelist. He spoke at the Methodist and Baptist churches, during his stay here.

At the Baptist church last Sunday morning there was an appropriate Easter sermon and music.

Mrs. E. E. Tuell is at West Sumner, caring for her mother, Mrs. Kilbon Bowker, who is very ill.

Miss Alice Dunham is working at L. M. Mann's.

Social dance at Grange Hall tomorrow evening. April 7th's night.

Miss Gertrude Curtis has been visiting her aunt at Bryant Pond, recently.

NORWAY.

All of the town schools are now in session. The high school opened one week ago and the grammar commenced last Monday.

The first base ball game of the season was played on the Fair Grounds Saturday afternoon, April 2. Two teams were picked up from the shoe factory, stores, high school and farms, nevertheless the boys got right into the sport and gave an exhibition of spring fever not altogether bad. A score 4 to 2 was declared in favor of "lunch cart" Trundy's warriors.

James Mudge has sold his meat business to Chas. A. Richardson. Mr. Richardson will open the market next Saturday, April 9th.

Many young people are bringing in the trailing arbutus buds, and forcing them into full bloom. This condition is a number of weeks ahead of the spring of 1909.

The high school ball team is busy with their spring practice. Philip Haskell is captain and Donald B. Partridge is manager with the following schedule of games on hand.

April 16, Gould's Academy at Norway.

April 23, Bridgton Academy at Norway.

April 30, Norway High school at Paris.

May 7, Mechanic Falls High school at Norway.

May 14, Norway High school at North Bridgton.

May 21, Paris High school at Norway.

May 28, Norway High school at Bethel.

June 4, Norway High school at Mechanic Falls.

June 11, Open.

June 18, Norway High school at Paris.

Lake Pennesseewassee will be free from ice within a few days if the prediction of many wise ones proves true. Open water extends around the lake shore and strong northwest wind would put on the finishing touches. Ice went out last year April 27th.

H. P. and E. E. Andrews have purchased the livery stock of Herbert N. Black and will hold a sale next Friday. A large number of horses from the woods will also be included in this unusual clearance sale.

Halley's comet will soon be here and Optometrist Parmenter can accommodate the host of amateur observers wishing to view this rare celestial visitor. This enterprising optician has purchased a large astronomical telescope, nearly seven feet long, with a four inch objective lens and powerful eyepiece for the purpose of offering the public an unusual opportunity of watching the comet to advantage. The instrument will be set up near Withersell Park each evening when clear, and if you fail to learn something of astronomy by practical observation, it will not be the fault of this bustling business man.

Dave May, foreman and mechanic in the Brown Novelty mill, is convalescing from an illness that has kept him at home during the past eight weeks.

Ray Pratt is the new barber in A. E. Cook's shop. James Barnes has gone to Sanford, where he opens a shop in promising territory.

At the meeting of the Norway Base Ball Association in Cook's barber shop last Friday evening, a committee was chosen to solicit funds among the business men. C. P. Barnes, Esq., Fred Sanborn and L. M. Welch were given the opportunity to use every honorable means within their power to swell the coffers of this new organization. The following ball players have been practically landed for the coming season: third baseman Tris of the Portland McHawks; Archie McDaniels, Harley Rawson, Freddie LaFrance, Joe Harris, Ernest Clasen and Jimmy Farman. A pitcher and an cat fielder are still missing, but the positions will be filled within a week as the vacancies are due owing to a matter of salary. Games are now being arranged with some of the fast ones and a schedule will be made public within a short time. A feature unknown around here will be the introduction of score cards at every game, enabling the patrons to follow the play by a printed line-up.

Saved From The Grave.
"I had about given up hope, after nearly four years of suffering from a severe lung trouble," writes Mrs. M. L. Dix, of Clarksville Tenn. "When the pain in my chest would be almost unbearable and I could not do any work, but Dr. King's New Discovery has made me feel like a new person. It is the best medicine made for the throat and lungs." Obsolete coughs, stubborn colds, hay fever, hoarseness, asthma, croup, bronchitis and hemorrhages, whooping and whooping cough, yield quickly to this wonderful medicine. It is a true and tried remedy for all these ailments.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them? Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Rumford Falls' testimony.

Otis W. Burgess, of Rumford Falls, Me., says: "About five years ago I was attacked by severe pains in the small of my back and an ache through my kidneys. After I stopped, I could not straighten without assistance. The secretions from my kidneys were unnatural and I had difficulty in voiding them. I became worse daily, lost my appetite and was subject to dizzy spells. Someone at last told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box. I was cured through their use and have been in good health since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

SWIFT'S

ANIMAL FERTILIZERS

Active all the time.

Too Much Emphasis

cannot be laid upon the fact that the fertilizer nearest to nature, or nature's nature, will prove the most reliable and profitable.

That is why Swift's Fertilizers are so much in demand—no satisfactory. They are crop producers as well as soil builders. They leave the soil in excellent condition for later use after first crops have been removed.

For this reason they are active all the time. The sure price one them.

Swift—Superior—Sure

"It gives me great pleasure to state that I raised one of the best crops of corn on Swift's Fertilizer that I ever produced on my farm. The yield was more than on land that had been used for years."—J. E. Lawrence, Bethel, Me.

"I have conducted an experiment with Swift's Fertilizer and I can state that it has given me the best results in my history. I have used it for years and it has given me the best results in my history. I have used it for years and it has given me the best results in my history."—J. E. Lawrence, Bethel, Me.

One of the vital demands upon you is to enrich the soil and maintain its fertility. To do this economically and successfully simply treat your soil with Swift's Fertilizer. They cost no more than others, and are more effective.

Some folks are eating corned beef and some are refusing to eat corned beef.

A good garden and a well-kept yard are sure indication of thrift in the home.

It is true that in every comet year something unpleasant happens. It is also true that something unpleasant happens in every other year.

A Massachusetts woman can speak 54 languages, yet so profound a student must have but limited time for exercising her conversational powers.

A man 70 years old made application for admission to the University of Missouri as a student. He must be one of those who subscribe to the theory that a man is never too old to learn.

"The mosquito lays between 200 and 400 eggs every ten days." Yes, if there were any commercial demand for them, the cold storage experts would be retailing them at 45 cents a dozen.

A Boston expert warns women to wear "rats" in their hair if they do not wish to get bald. Judging from the size and shape of some of the fashionable coiffures, they might as well go the whole thing and wear rat traps.

The immigration into the United States in 1909 did not reach record figures, the arrivals at New York, the chief port of entry, being 771,350, against 1,040,109 in 1907, which marked the flood tide. But the ingress of aliens indicated that prosperity had returned, for the ebb and flow of immigration correspond very closely to the industrial situation in this country. There were some unusual features in the 1909 immigration, including the arrival of 1,638 persons from Brazil to locate here. Ordinarily the drift is supposed to be in the other direction, Brazil being largely undeveloped and offering notable inducements to settlers.

F. Hopkinson Smith denounces New York as the most insalubrious city on the face of the earth, apparently on the ground that people in New York are in a hurry, and being in a hurry neglect some of the little amenities of social intercourse. Says Minneapolis Journal: This is far from making his case. Insalubrious may be of two kinds, the insalubrious of hurry, and the insalubrious of leisure. We have in this country practically none of the latter. It springs from the pressure of a class of society upon which another class waits. We lack this in America, where outside of sleeping car porters and the negligible class of waiters in restaurants where the dishes are more notable than the food, every man works for what he gets and gets only what he works for. One must go to the lands where the tip has blossomed to reach the apex of insalubrious. In America it is only in the land. Would that it might be shipped there.

CONTROL OF THE AIR.

Who owns the air? That question will have to be decided one of these days, both in relation to airports and the wireless telegraph and telephony. With airports it is a question of academic question, but it is a live issue on the Atlantic coast in connection with the telegraph. Amateur operators, some of them with big power stations are very numerous, and they assume that they have a right to use their apparatus at any time. The most of them are boys without a sense of responsibility.

Some of these boys, however, are of a different order. A Massachusetts member of congress proposed that money be taken from the treasury to fund a bill to regulate the use of the air.

for the president to appoint a board of experts, which shall formulate rules for the control of its operations, these rules later to be submitted to congress to be enacted into law. This plan meets with approval, but strong opposition to it has developed. It might be thought that amateur operators could not muster much strength, but they have certain commercial interests behind them. It is estimated that there are not less than 60,000 amateur wireless stations in the United States with the number growing rapidly. New York city has a thousand, Boston 150, and they are especially numerous along the coast, where are many regular stations and much communication with ships. The dealers in wireless apparatus are interested in encouraging the demand and are opposed to the regulation suggested.

DIXFIELD ITEMS.

The Happenings of the Week as gathered by the Citizen Reporter.

The prize speaking contest was held at Tuscan Opera Hall, Tuesday evening of this week. The following were the contestants: Blanche McElroy, Ethel McElroy, Marion Marble, Esther Ooster, E. Mr. Eugene Hammond is seriously ill at his home, where he is visiting the family of Joseph Noyes.

At the annual business meeting of the First Universalist parish Tuesday March 29, 1910, Dr. F. E. Wheeler read the resignation of Rev. I. B. Macdonald, pastor of the First Universalist church, his pastorate of four years to close July 1, 1910. The parish voted to ask Miss Macdonald to withdraw her resignation and remain with the society another year. Miss Macdonald was installed at the dedication of the new church, coming from Berlin, N. H., after a successful pastorate of nine years. During Miss Macdonald's pastorate she has not only performed the duties of a pastor but has filled the place of Superintendent of Sunday School and Junior Union, Clerk of church and President of Mission Circle.

The officers of the parish were elected as follows:

Moderator—F. E. Wheeler, M. D.

Clerk—E. K. Todd.

Treasurer—J. C. Bates, L. M. Mann, F. E. Wheeler, M. D.

Treas.—L. C. Bates.

Three new members joined the parish. Reports of Church Sunday School, Good Will Society, Mission Circle, Boy's and Junior Union, showed these organizations to be in good condition with a good sum in their treasuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bowker will leave this week for South America, Canada, where they expect to make their future home. For the past two years Mr. Bowker has been a clerk in this village working first for the firm of N. M. Small & Son and later for O. A. Smith. By his genial obliging manner Mr. Bowker has made many friends who sincerely regret his departure. Mrs. Bowker has been an assistant in Mrs. F. H. Parsons's millinery store where she has been very popular.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Lester Packer gave a farewell party to honor of Mr. and Mrs. Bowker. There were about thirty guests; what was played, refreshments of ice cream and cake and many numbers were served. Mr. and Mrs. Bowker were much pleased with a look at a token of their friends' esteem.

PAINTS

Are not all alike and the best is always the cheapest in the end. If you want the kind that lasts get the

MONARCH MIXED PAINTS

and you will agree with the host of others who have used it that it is the BEST PAINT on the market.

We Also Recommend

Senour's Floor and Carriage Paint, and always have on hand a supply of St. Louis Red Seal White Lead, also Shellac, Linseed Oil, Varnishes, Turpentine, Wood Fillers, and Brushes of All Kinds.

Whiten your Walls with MURESCO

Have you tried the Celebrated Hay Make FLEXIBLE FLOOR FINISH?

Give it a trial and you will recommend it as do all who use it. For an interior finish many of you are already wedded to

JAP-A-LAC

The rest will be after they have tried it.

"THE WAY OF THE WEST."

The "Way Of The West," a powerful story of life on the plains will be presented at Odeon Hall, Bethel next week. This play is by an author whose plays are always of merit, and being a western man himself his dramas of life in that section of the country ring with truth and conviction. Those who have enjoyed such plays as the "Squawman," "The Virginian," and plays of that like, will find fully as much pleasure in the story of "The Way Of The West," for in all of these plays the exploiting of the struggle and triumphs of true manhood, despite opposition and adversity, is the fundamental theme. Although "The Way Of The West," might be termed a man's play, in that the principal character is a manly young hero, yet woman figures very prominently through the play, and the author has interwoven a novel love complication that is intense and interesting. The scenes of the play are laid on a cattle ranch in Texas, and its people are all true types of the people of the plains. Although one or two bad men are introduced into the action, yet the "thrills" are not so prominent as one expects in a western drama. No play would be complete with out some comedy to lighten it up, and the author of "The Way Of The West," has introduced some droll characters who will keep the smiles constantly in motion. This play will be given by the Bennett-Moulton Co.

POINTS REGARDING THE CENSUS.

The census begins April 15 and must be completed in thirty days. The enumerators will wear a badge inscribed "United States Census, 1910." The law requires every adult to furnish the prescribed information, but also provides that it shall be treated confidentially so that no injury can come to any person from answering the questions. The Census Bureau, prior to April 15, will distribute to every farm owner and tenant in the state a blank or schedule containing the Census questions relative to farm operations and equipment. This should be filled up, if possible, not later than the morning of April 15, but if anyone has been unable to fill it up by that time, he should do it as soon afterward as he can.

People who do not speak English or who do not understand the Schedule completely should get help from others, if possible, in filling it up.

The President has issued a proclamation, calling on all citizens to cooperate with the Census and assuring them that it has nothing to do with taxation, army or jury service, compulsory school attendance, regulation of immigration, or enforcement of any law, and that no one can be injured by answering the inquiries.

It is of the utmost importance that the farm census of this state be complete and correct.

Therefore every farm owner and tenant should promptly, fully, and accurately fill up the "Advance Farm Schedule" and carefully preserve it for the enumerator when he calls.

The building on the old Blanchard homestead farm, owned by Lucian W. Blanchard and occupied by A. G. Goddard and family was entirely destroyed by fire Tuesday evening of last week. By hard work Mr. Goddard with the aid of his hired man saved his stock of cattle and horses but two hogs and a flock of hens were burned as was also nearly all the household furniture, farming tools, hay, grain, etc. The four children have recently been sick with the measles and Mrs. Goddard was also in poor health but they were obliged to travel a long distance to the nearest neighbor with almost no clothing to protect them. The cause of the fire is unknown and it had made great headway before it was discovered. There was an insurance of $3,000 on the furniture, farming implements, etc., but that amount will not cover Mr. Goddard's loss. On the building there was an insurance of $2,500. Mr. Goddard seems to be unfortunate. He was only a few years ago that his family were burned out losing nearly all they possessed at the time.

Mrs. A. E. Stearns entertained Tuesday afternoon and evening in honor of Mrs. Frank A. Stearns of Hot Springs, Ark., who with her husband has been a guest at the Stearns' home for a few weeks. A party of six tables were entertained both afternoon and evening. The home was very prettily decorated for the occasion, the color design being yellow and white. Yellow ribbons hung from the ceiling, to which was attached the water colored cards bearing the name of the table over which it hung. The guests were received by the hostess, Mrs. A. E. Stearns and Mrs. Frank Stearns, the guest of honor. Miss Jean McElvany presided at the punch table. Music was furnished both afternoon and evening by the Gem Orchestra. At five o'clock the guests were invited to the dining room, where the decorations were particularly attractive, jewelry being used very effectively. Yellow ribbons from the chandelier, artistically draped and the beautiful center piece on the table being the most noticeable features. The refreshments were served as a three course lunch. It was a little past ten when the refreshments were served in the evening. It proved a most delightful occasion to the large number of guests.

PRINCE RUPERT, A MINING CENTRE.

There are few recorded instances of a railroad grade ever cutting a mineral vein of any value. so far the main line of the G. T. P. is no exception, but the district which it traverses is every day looming up into great and greater importance. The coast formation has never proved prolific of mineral wealth, but 100 miles from Prince Rupert the line enters a new field. A belt of mineralized rock, starting at the Portland Canal, running through the head waters of the Nass, crosses the Skeena River about the Kitseas Canyon and extends into the interior through the hills at Hazelton and the Babine and Hudson Bay mountains. The extent of the zone is unknown. Prospectors have only touched it in spots, but these spots have shown wealth incalculable. The immense area of this ore body can only be appreciated by those who have travelled over it. The future of the Portland Canal is an assured thing now. The same is known to exist on the Nass, while late last fall, discoveries were made in the vicinity of the Kitseas Canyon, which when developed and explored farther, will no doubt show very considerable ore body. These discoveries were made too late in the season to prove much more than that ore of good quality existed in the district, covering considerable area. Silver, lead and copper are the chief minerals found; but all ores in the district carry gold values, roughly speaking of from $1 to $10. Some even go higher than this.

At Hazelton, 150 miles from Prince Rupert, and on the line of the G. T. P. railway, the existence of a magnificent ore has been demonstrated by the strike on the Silver Cup, a property on Nine Miles Mountain. Ninety six inches of solid steel galena ore is surely sufficient assurance that Nine Miles at least will be productive of much wealth. Work on the Libbie group, owned by James Cronin of Spokane, has progressed most favorably all winter. A tunnel of 325 feet has revealed a cross vein, which had itself attained run to tap the main vein, which was 3 feet across. This tunnel was being expected to be reached at 400 feet.

On Hudson Bay Mountain, which lies just across the Bulkley valley from the Babine range, prospects have been struck and developed to the shipping point. The lakeview group, overlooking the railroad and only six miles distant from it, shows grey copper and free gold. This likewise is a silver-lead property. Five tons of galena ore were shipped from the tornado group which gave another return of $100 per ton in gold, silver and lead. This was five years ago. With the shipping facilities the railroad will give, it is estimated by conservative mining men that much of this ore can be landed at the smelter at Prince Rupert for a cost of $1 per ton, approximately. It only requires the completion of the railroad to throw open a mining country of immense possibilities. Prince Rupert Optimist. 4-7-10.

Number 50.

IN SEVERAL PARTS. PART 10.

THE FRYE FAMILY.

One of Gen. Joseph Frye's commendable acts was to write out, though in a brief manner, an account of his ancestors which was found among the papers of his grandson, the Hon. William Frye, who made the town of Bethel his adopted home where he was familiarly called, Esquire Frye, which was printed after his demise, a half century since, on page 435, in Series II, Vol. II, Maine Historical Society publications, 1891, but only a part can I here present. The whole production fills three pages in the historical publication, and would make some two columns in the Citizen. I will here turn the matter half round and present his closing words first which are as follows:

"Dear Children:
"Being sensible the foregoing genealogy neither is or can be of any public benefit, it cannot be worthy of public notice. I therefore have no other meaning than to hand it down to you, to the end that you and your descendants may (if you or any of them have or may have the curiosity) look back to the first of the family in Andover, from whom you derive your nativity, and may continue it along to many generations, if you or any of them think proper to do it; with that view (and no other) it is presented to you by your

"Affectionate Father,
"JOSEPH FRYE.

"March 10, 1753."
As the General was born at Andover, Mass., March 3, 1711, and departed this life at Fryeburg, this State, July 25, 1791, he was at the time of the production of the foregoing 33 years of age. Had he had one single reminder of the avidity with which productions of this nature would be seized, a century later he would unquestionably have been more explicit, or would have made his genealogical production of greater length, but short as it is facts are contained therein of much historical value, not only to his descendants but to the general public.

The General's brothers and sisters named were as follows:
"1—John; 2—Isaac; 3—Joshua; 4—Abner; 5—Mehitable; 6—Anne; 7—Phoebe; 8—JOSEPH (the General); 9—Hannah; 10—Anne; 11—Samuel; 12—John and 13—Tabitha."

After these names without dates of birth, the General says:
"The scholar now proceeds to particulars concerning this family (of which he is the 8th child in the chain of births, all which particulars have occurred within his memory and are as follows, viz.:

He then proceeds to give the dates of births of his eleven children, with out a reference to his wife only that her name was "Mehitable."

CHILDREN OF GEN. JOSEPH AND MEHITABLE (FOUR) FRYE:

"1—Joseph, born July 17, 1753, died Aug. 27, 1758.
2—Hannah, January 1, 1755, died September 10, 1758.

Joseph Jr., one of the above named and signed the father's petition of 1771, which the General carried to Portland, the others not then having become of age. The two who have a public record to the war of the Revolution I have omitted.

JOSEPH FRYE JR.

He was born in Andover, Mass., July 17, 1753, son of Gen. Joseph Frye, and settled in Fryeburg.

April 23, 1780, a Joseph Frye of Fryeburg, "Gentleman," was admitted into the mysteries of "Portland Lodge, No. 1, of the Free and Accepted Masons."

Jan. 17, 1824, Joseph Frye departed this life.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her

Knoxville, Iowa.—"I suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more and was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am glad to say that your medicines and kind letters of directions have done more for me than anything else and I had the best physicians here. I can do my work and rest well at night. I believe there is nothing like the Pinkham remedies."

Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R.F.D., No. 8, Knoxville, Iowa.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

Richard Frye.

He was born Aug. 2, 1751, and was a son of Gen. Joseph Frye, married a Miss Sarah Gordon of Fryeburg, May, 1785. He departed this life Feb. 10, 1830, at 78 years of age. They resided in Fryeburg.

Children:

2—Joseph, March 10, 1761.

3—Richard, Sept. 6, 1763.

4—William G., May 10, 1766.

William G. read law, opened a law office on Bethel Hill about the year of 1823, and was united in marriage Sept. 10, 1823, with Miss Lois, daughter of Simon Twitchell. The "G." in his name is misleading. Changes in record names are perplexing but are often met. He was christened "William Gordon Frye." Not when he became a man he dropped the middle name, so in this case William G., when a boy, and William Frye when a man.

It is my purpose to notice this name again later, and as William Frye.

DRAN FRYE.

17 Dran Frye, born at Fryeburg May 25, 1755, son of Joseph Jr., and grandson of Gen. Joseph but little is known by the public. He took for a wife Miss Ann, daughter of Pelatiah March, Rev. Caleb Bradley performing the ceremony then making a record of the event in his diary at Dec. 12, 1780.

HEART THRILLING GEMS.

DESTINED TO PROVOKE A SMILE, GOAX A TEAR, CAUSE A TUG AT THE HEART STRINGS, CAST A GLEAM OF LIGHT INTO THE DARKEST CORNERS AND BRING A THRILL OF JOY INTO EVERY LIFE WHICH THEY TOUCH.

TIMED MOTIONS.

A little elbow leans upon your knee,
Your tired knee that has so much to bear;
A child's dear eyes are looking lovingly
From underneath a tangle of tangled hair,
Perhaps you do not heed the velvet touch
Of warm, moist fingers, folding
years so lightly;
You do not prize this blessing over much,
Too almost are too tired to pray
tonight.

But it is blessedness! A year ago
I did not see it as I do to-day—
We are too dull and thankless; and too slow
To catch the sunshine till it slips away,
And now it seems surprising strange to me
That while I wore the badge of motherhood,
I did not kiss more oft and tenderly
The little child that brought me only good.

And if some night when you sit down
to rest
You miss this elbow from your tired knee;
This restless, curly head from off your breast;
This hissing tongue that chatters
constantly;
If from your own dimpled hands
had slipped,
And water would settle in your lap
again;
If the white feet into their grave had tripped,
I could not blame you for your heartache then.

I wonder so that mothers ever fret
At little children clinging to their gown;
Or that the footprints when the days are wet
Are ever black enough to make them frown.
If I could send a little muddy boot,
Or cap or jacket on my chamber door;
If I could kiss a rosy, restless foot,
And hear it patter in my house
some more!

If I could send a broken cart to-day,
Tomorrow make a kite to reach the sky—
There is no woman in God's world could say
She was more blissfully content than I.
But, ah! the dainty pillow next my own
Is never crumpled by a child's head—
My sleeping bidding from his nest has been!

The little one I used to kiss is dead,
Mary Louise Riley Smith.

THE WORLD WAITING FOR YOU.

The world is waiting for you, young
man,
If your purpose is strong and true;
If out of your treasures of soul and heart,
You can bring things old and new,
If you know the truth that makes men
true,
And with this can bring it to view,
The world is waiting for you, young
man.

There are treasures of mountains and treasures of sea,
And treasure of valley and plain,
That industry, knowledge and skill
can earn,
While ignorance, laziness and sloth
can earn
To neither the lightning and lightning
the storm,
Is a power that is wielded by few,
If you have the nerve and the skill,
The world is waiting for you.

Of the life and business the world has enough—
Who out what they never have earned—
Who find the pure stream from the fountain of truth,
And wisdom and knowledge have acquired,
But passion and purpose which know
no defeat,
And genius who grows bold and
true,
Will turn all mankind with their love,
Life and light—
The world is waiting for you.

Then awake, O, young man, from the slumber of doubt,
And prepare for the battle of life!

LOCAL HISTORY.

Pelatih March, her father, came to the part of Falmouth known as Portland from Amesbury, Mass., where he was born in April 7, 1741. Of him as in the case of his son-in-law, Dean Frye, but very little can be gleaned from public records. He was a tanner; seems to have lived first in Portland where he purchased, in 1772, a house lot, then at that part of Falmouth called Saccarappa village now located in Westbrook. In the month of October, 1770, his wife died and Sept. 15, 1778 he was united in marriage with Mrs. Mary (Fabyan) Brackett, widow of Capt. John Brackett, of Saccarappa. The intention was recorded in the town of Gorham, Me., the town joining the westerly side of Saccarappa village.

Who was Capt. John Brackett and his wife whose maiden name was Mary Fabyan? To present an unobstructed genealogical view of the parties here named some ramifications must be entered into particularly so in view of the fact that Dean Frye was the grandfather of Maine's much respected, United States Senator—Hon. William Pierce Frye—who, for a period of nearly thirty years, has served the people of his State in a most acceptable manner—always found in the vanguard of all movements tending to the welfare of his State and Country, Anna (March) Frye, being his maternal grandmother; and because just now many people are alert for genealogical information, and as Senator Frye is a good deal of a public character, it seems advisable to make a somewhat extended tour of observation among his branch of the Frye family.

Joshua Brackett lived in what has been known as Casco Bay, Falmouth Neck, now Portland, without moving his place of residence, from a date prior to 1723, to his death, March, 1794, his last place of worldly abode being on the north westerly corner made by High crossing Congress street, the Libby mansion house, now occupied by Hon. Chas. F. Libby standing on the site. With his brother, he owned 200 acres of land in Portland now covered with building of every nature.

Joshua Brackett was the father of ten children, the youngest of whom, born in 1716, married May 24, 1739, Joseph Pabian, who was born April 1, 1707, and died May 15, 1789. Joseph and his brother John were the first of the name to settle in the town of Scarborough where they never lived and died. Joseph Pabian's second child was named Mary, and was baptized February 2, 1746, who became the wife of Capt. John Brackett; he was born 1724, the oldest child of Anthony Brackett, who occupied the southerly part of the 200 acre Portland lot, the site of his residence, like that of his brother Joshua, being well defined in history and upon the earth. He was therefore a cousin to his wife's mother.

Capt. Brackett seems to have been a man of considerable ability—a land surveyor, public spirited, with an abiding love for military life.

His father was interested in milling at Saccarappa and he went there to superintend the work.

In 1768 Capt. Brackett purchased and settled down upon ten acres of land, upon which was a two story house located upon the high ground at the north westerly side of Saccarappa village, adjoining the Presumpscot river. The saw mill industry was adjacent, the view was superb, the change of the saw, interspersed with the river driver's bark was continuous. The new mill built at Lexington in 1775 reached Falmouth on April 21, and before the disappearance of the saw on that day Capt. John Brackett and his company were on the road to the mill. When thirty miles away from the point of starting the company was met by a courier and ordered to return.

Before us is a copy of the original muster roll, containing thirty-five names, I made twenty-five years ago. He then recruited a company, the muster roll of which I copied also from the original, and both appear in the Daily Eastern Argus of April 22, 1893. The names of privates, including officers, number fifty nine.

Person Smith records that—July 3, 1775, Capt. Brackett and company marched to Cambridge.

The Capt. soon after arriving upon the Cambridge battlefield became sick, started for home and at Ipswich, Mass. died, Sept. 24, 1775.

Children of Capt. John Brackett

1—John Jr., married Jane Warren who was born Sept. 24, 1771, and died Aug. 15, 1850.

2—Mary, married Abner Hallack.

3—Mary, married Amos Foster, Jr.

4—Elly, married, 1st Simon Quimby, 2nd Thomas Mayberry, Nov. 17, 1793.

The printed record from which I copy the above relating to John Brackett seems to be wrong. It should read Simon Quimby.

ett) Quimby, "Wife of my late son, Simon Quimby, deceased, and her children—Nancy, Charles and Charlotte, one fourth part of mill called Quimby mill."

In 1797 Alonzo Berbank and Amos Foster, Jr., were residing in Bridgton. In 1769 Capt. Brackett ran out the highway between Saccarappa and Gorham, Me., and marked on the record the location of his residence, which was two story, standing on the ten acre lot, passing, in 1806, from the Capt. Brackett heirs to David Conant whose descendants retain it with the house he constructed, the Capt. Brackett house he received with the ten acre lot which was destroyed by fire, stood a little north westerly of the present Conant house, or between the Conant house and the ancient, much neglected burying place, where most of the remains repose of the first dwellers upon the soil of the region in unmarked graves, the part of the lot containing the graves being reserved for public use when Capt. Brackett made the purchase.

Capt. John Brackett's children were related to the Fryes only by the marriage of the Captain's widow with Pelatih March whose daughter Ann became the wife of Dean Frye. The maiden name of Pelatih's wife and her identity I have not learned.

I purpose to notice this matter further next week.

(To be Continued.)

"NEW ENGLAND FARMS."

The April and fall number of a monthly agricultural bulletin called New England Farms, issued by the Industrial Department of the Maine Central Railroad Co. and intended for free distribution among present and prospective farmers of Maine, made its appearance this week.

It is an interesting little publication, made up of 32 pages 6x10 in size. It has departments on horses and other animals, vegetables, the dairy, poultry, tree fruits, small fruits and farm homes, and the advertising patronage of business houses shows a generous appreciation of the railroad's efforts to arouse interest in and develop New England agriculture.

An opportunity for farmers which is the subject of an editorial reference relates to the growing of strawberries in southern Maine, northern Massachusetts, and southern central New Hampshire to supply the constantly increasing demand for the fruit in New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore and surrounding communities, after the local production in those places reaches the end of the season. It is pointed out, also, that the New England home demand for "strawberries" is as yet but partially filled.

A leading article relates to the advantage of combining fruit and poultry raising and there is an interesting story of how an Ohio traveling man, worn out physically and mentally, purchased an unoccupied New England farm and found health and prosperity in raising poultry and dogs. There are several interesting suggestions and timely hints and the publication as a whole develops a spirit of hopefulness and courage which cannot fail to be of benefit to its readers.

New England Farms will be mailed without charge to present and prospective farmers who send their names and addresses to the Industrial Department, Maine Central Railroad Co., Portland, Me.

The College of Agriculture has outlined a short six weeks' course in elementary agriculture and horticulture, to be given during the summer term. For a number of years an instruction in any branch of agriculture has been offered at the summer term. The course is designed especially for teachers, considerable attention being devoted to methods of teaching agriculture in the secondary schools. It will include instruction in school gardening.

The Department of Horticulture has just received from Mr. C. A. Reed of the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry, a very fine collection of named varieties of peaches.

Two of the agricultural writers, Mr. A. K. Gardner and Mr. G. B. Wade, will spend the summer vacation pruning one of the commercial apple orchards, near Winthrop.

New Clerk—"Twenty-five cents, 30 cents and 41."

Possible Customer—"But why the difference in price? All the oranges you have look the same to me."

New Clerk—"They are the same, but the prices I have named are for half, one and two dozen lots."

Humors of the City.

Since the introduction of the suit-at-the-front cars it is customary for the conductor to notify the passengers of disembarking passengers by shouting "Coming out!"

The other day as a Troop car reached Campbell street the conductor shouted

"Coming out!"

THE REASON WHY

Vinol

IS THE BEST STRENGTHENING TONIC

for Feeble Old People, Delicate Children, Weak, Run-down Persons, and to Counteract Chronic Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis, is because it combines the two most world-famous tonics—the medicinal, strengthening, body-building elements of Cod Liver Oil and Tonic Iron, without oil or grease, tastes good, and agrees with every one.

We return your money without question if Vinol does not accomplish all we claim for it.

We are pleased to announce that we have secured the Agency for the

for Bethel and vicinity, and have all models in stock at our Garage. In equipment, power and speed, and low cost of maintenance, this car far surpasses any other car ever placed on the market at less than $1,000; and we cordially invite your critical examination of same.

Demonstration given to intending purchasers at any time.

Send for Catalogue.
